Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 22 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cold Saturday with some wintry showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
Some wintry showers are likely for a time in the first half of the night, before clearing away east. Mostly dry with clear spells thereafter, allowing a widespread frost to form, and perhaps the odd freezing fog patch. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Saturday:
A cold start with a frost. Any freezing fog patches lifting as occasional wintry showers spread southeast across the region through the afternoon. Clear spells and a frost returning later. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Cold with generally light winds and sunny intervals, also widespread overnight frost. Mostly dry but wintry showers possible in west Sunday. Turning wet and windy from the west late Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.